

The Jemmy Hirst in Rawcliffe is under threat of closure

As many of you who are involved with Doncaster & District CAMRA, know, the Jemmy Hirst pub in Rawcliffe has won many CAMRA awards over the years.

This award winning establishment has been run by Simon & Jane Hicks for the last 16 years, many of you will have visited this wonderful gem of a pub, whether as a regular customer, an occasional visitor or on one of the many presentation nights. You will know from experience that you will always be served some of the finest ales in the area and will receive a warm welcome.

Last week we received the sad news that Simon & Jane are leaving and the Jemmy Hirst is in real danger of becoming another real ale pub that will close.

It is because of this that a meeting was called by people from the village to see if there is the possibility of the Jemmy Hirst being bought and run by the community as a community pub. As you can imagine with the news only reaching us all last week, time is of the essence. The latest meeting was only to make local people aware and judge if there was any interest in making this a real community pub.

Around 50 people turned up and ideas have been gathered and hopefully some structure will be given to the project within the next couple weeks.

If could get the news out there please that we are about to lose another one of the best pubs in our district.
